In Campus Training Programme on “Internal Audit for Internal & Concurrent Auditors of RCBs”

(25 to 27 May 2026)

Introduction:

Banking depends on public trust and active participation of its customers. The banks, in addition to offering prompt and satisfactory customer services, have additional responsibility of carrying out its operations which are not detrimental to the interest of its customers/depositors. The Rural Cooperative Banks (RCBs), keeping in line with the banking norms and procedures laid down by the regulator, the supervisor and the Governments, are expected to develop suitable and appropriate systems and procedures to streamline their operations, including banking operations, both at Head Office and the Branches, and are required to constantly upgrade the same to comply with the changing regulatory and supervisory requirements.

The internal inspection and audit strategy should aim at ensuring the effectiveness of keeping a watch over the banks' operations. The focus of internal audit and inspection should be on the core areas of the banks' functions mainly Capital Adequacy, Management, Earnings, Liquidity and Systems and Controls (CAMELSC). The role of the internal inspection and audit is to ensure that there is improvement in the systems, operational efficiency and financial soundness of the banks.

BIRD-Mangaluru has organised this training program to guide the Internal Auditors of the banks to foresee and thereby avoid the possibilities of any incidence of fraud and malpractice in the bank, which would thereby ensure a sound financial health of the bank.

Objectives: By the end of the Programme, the participant will be able to:-

- ❖ Explain the structure and components of internal audit reports.
- ❖ Explain the significance of assets, liabilities, and financial statements.
- ❖ Explain the legal aspects of advances and documentation practices.
- ❖ Explain risk-based internal audit methodologies.
- ❖ Explain the importance of IT and IS audits in cooperative banks.
